

The Nom Times

Issue #16

October 21st, 2024

Bobo Kobo

Recently Implemented Rules Editor-In-Chief Bobo Kobo

Proposal 360 by Crorem passed in a nine to zero vote. This amended rule 344 for grammar and clarity.

Proposal 361 by Ian passed in a eight to one vote. This amended rule 341 for clarity of implementation.

Proposal 362, Fortune, by Bobo passed in a eight to zero vote. There is now a new currency called fortune, which can be gain in a number of ways. There is also now a loan system as well as a bank. Players also have new statuses, as well as a new role they can give themselves. Also included in this is a market system wherein players can post jobs and tasks for other players to complete.

Proposal 363 by Crorem passed in a six to one vote. This amended 317 for further clarity and changed the consequence of not submitting articles from inactivity to removal from the pool.

Proposal 365 by Baegll passed in a five to three vote. This amended 206 but does not alter gameplay.

Proposal 366 by Bobo amended Fortune to be up to date with the current ruleset as well as fixed some clarity and grammar issues.

Proposal 367, Alarm, by Ian passed in a four to three vote. Players can now use Nomitron to set alarms that will alert them privately.

Proposal 368, Totino's For My Hungry Guys, by Alec passed in a five to one vote. Some in game items are now categorized as ingredients.

Proposal 364 by Alec failed in a three to four vote.

Current Proposals Editor-In-Chief Bobo Kobo

Alec is proposing an amendment to 338 to create a more general list for real life taco-like-meals.

Bobo is proposing The Other Six. Assigned to each of the remaining so-called deadly sins would be actions players can take for themselves or against others. This can alter fame, fortune, humor, and rot.

Current Events Editor-In-Chief Bobo Kobo

The goose has pecked greypanda13 and Jonah this turn. The NTFJ picked this week are Alec and Thorax.

There are four parties holding seats in parliament this term. The People's Anarcho-Suberite Righteous Labour Party holds 49 seats, the Fifth Way party holds 153 seats, the Yankee Noodlers party holds 62 seats, and The Dendrobranchiates' Party holds 236 seats.

Players will begin to die during the next turn, and will have to take on a revival quest to become active again.

The Scourge Bobo

If players have not yet noticed, twenty of our players are inactive at time of writing. This wave of inactivity has shown us how few players are truly playing, but I have high hopes that there is a remedy to this. When I wrote and passed Fortune, I included a job from the BON with what I feel to be a huge payout for inviting a new player who participates. There are also jobs to encourage other existing players to participate, and I hope that this is enough to save us all.

The scourge that is inactivity can be cured, or at least become something that feels less like it is a dark cloud looming over our gameplay, but it is in the hands of us as players to participate and find more who wish to.

Rescue Dog #0008 By Crorem

This issue was brought to you by the smell of fish. The Smell of Fish, you either like it you don't, but you sure can identify it.